THAT WONDERFUL LAST NAIL.

Mrs. Potter Palmer Will Put the Finishing

Mrs. Potter Palmer, President of the Board of Lady Managers of the Exposition, as already announced, will drive the last nail used in completion of the Woman's building. This nail will be furnished by the women of Montana and will be a very wonderful one, as is indicated by this description of it given by the Helena, Montana, Independent: The nail has been so made as to form

The shield will be of gold, and the symbolical figures will be made of the same metal but of different colors. the same metal but of different colors. The waterfall in the foreground will be of light colored gold sunk into the shield, and the plow and pick, standing at the foot of the falls, will be of a darker shade, as will be the background or relief. The wreath surrounding the escutcheon will be of native gold, and the floures of the two men supporting the figures of the two men supporting the whole on either side will also be of the whole on either side will also be of the same rich, yellow gold. Underneath will be the scroll, bearing the motto of the state, "Ore y Plata." In the two upper portions of the wreath two Montana sapphires will be inserted. Instead of merely engraving the figures, each will be wrought separately and then fastened together, making the task of shaping the brooch not only a delicate, but exceedingly difficult one, and one that will require much skill and posone that will require much skill and pa

The women of Nebraska have undertaken to furnish the hammer with which this "last nail" will be driven. A de scription of the hammer has not been given, but it is the intention to make it worthy of the aristocratic nail with which it will be brought in contact by Mrs. Palmer. It has been suggested that it be made of native Nebraska woods, inlaid with gold, silver and pearl.

A Mondacions Spirit. Colorado Sun.

The other night a reckless Denyer skeptic attended a spiritualist materialist meeting, and in the course of the evening, assuming to be of the faithful evening, assuming to be of the raithful, he sought an interview with his father. The medium being willing, the father appeared. This conversation followed: "How are you, father? Are you happy in the spirit world?"

"Yes, my son; very happy."

"And how is my poor, dead sister, Jane?"

"She, too, is content and happy,"
"And is poor brother Jim happy,
too?"
"Yes, my boy; he enjoys the spirit world."

There was a moment's silence, when the skoptic broke out with:

"What makes you lie so, father? I never had a sister Jane or a brother

Jim. As a truthful spirit you're not in it."

This broke up the meeting. A Remarkable Modern Episode.

It was the Fourth of July. A little miss of four years was told to take her afternoon nap, and when she got up she could watch the boys put off fire crackers. By and by a heavy thunder shower came, and auntic went to see if Miss Rachel were frightened, and she was, for she immediately exclaimed: "Aunt Balmhood. she immediately exclaimed: "Aunt Amy, I don't want to hear any more water crackers."

All for a Barley Corn.

LaFontaine, in one of his fables, tells of a barnyard fowl that scratched up a while scratching for corn. Not of a barnyard lowi that scratched up a gem, while scratching for corn. Not knowing its value, he gave it to a stone cutter for a barley corn. Thus do many persons throw away the priceless pearl of health. So far as clothing and dry goods in general are concerned I find that cotton goods are fully as cheap in the United States as here. Shirtings and sheetings, if anything, are superior in quality for the same money with us, so far as I can judge from the articles exposed for sale in the retail stores. Articles for underwear for women, made of muslin, are far superior in workmanship and finish and cheaper in price in the are far superior in workmanship and finish and cheaper in price in the United States. So Nor can I find that men's shirts, when chiefly of cotton, are any cheaper here. Of boots and shoes, if factory made, the same may be said. So In workmanship and finish I find corresponding articles of the wholesale process of manufactures. of the wholesale process of manufacture superior in the United States. This is true of clothing as well as of collars, cuffs, and like articles.

The New York Evening Post and other disloyal newspapers, who are fond of queting Mr. Schoenhol's opinions, have somehow omitted to quote these facts, forced from him in an official report.
